

Taos Community Foundation
Community Grants Awarded – October, 2013

TCF believes community investment involves partnership along many paths. There are times in grant-making when funding outcomes take on a narrow focus, particularly when new and critical areas of need emerge in our community, or when specific areas of community call out for strengthening. In our work through the community, both in grant-making and convening, we are always listening for those emerging trends. For this we have identified seven important areas, or pathways for philanthropic focus. The following organizations were funded across those specific pathways:
